Route 38 bridge

More roadwork ahead

By PAUL HAYES

WILMINGTON- For those commuters who weren't happy with the closing of Salem Street this summer, the ongoing construction of the Miceli Bridge and the prospect of downtown commuter rail station construction, brace yourselves for even more bad news - the Rte. 38 bridge over the MBTA tracks is going to undergo a complete renovation.

The bridge, built in 1928, needs to be rebuilt for two reasons. It has deteriorated to the point where its load carrying capacity was reduced, and it does not meet Massachusetts Highway Department horizontal or vertical clearances for a bridge over railroad tracks.

The design is scheduled to be completed by the Spring of 1999, and construction could begin by the following Summer, and may be completed by the Summer of 2001. Total construction costs will top $1.55 million.

Although similar to the construction of the Miceli Bridge at the intersection of routes 38 and 62, the renovation of the Rte. 38 bridge is not expected to create any traffic problems. The bridge is not located at a major intersection, and it is not expected to affect traffic flow.

Renovation plans allow for two lanes of traffic to be open during construction, said Kosmas Vrouvianis, the Mass. Highway Department's structural engineer for the bridge renovation. The bridge will be widened 8.4 feet, and raised 3.8 feet

According to Vrouvianis, one half of the bridge will remain open, while the other half is raised. Then the rebuilt half will be opened while the remaining half is completed.

Because of the bridge's increased height, the speed limit over the bridge will be changed from 35 to 30 miles per hour.

The renovation also involves the taking of a 40 square foot parcel of land, located by an abutment wall, and the relocation of a nearby gate, leading onto Zeneca Resins property.

Town Engineer Harold Gillam said the project would destroy a town benchmark, but designers

Christmas decorations winners announced

Seated amidst his Christmas display, Frank Enos is quick to point out features and then to invite you to see the rest of his decorations. Any Christmas decorations viewer is surely familiar with his home on Shawsheen Ave. near the bog. It's the one with the Santa in a sleigh pulled by reindeer flying across his yard. It's been there for years. Long before you could buy the plastic lighted Santa & sleigh units in K-Mart he hand made his Santa, lighting and all. Now he has branched in to decorate his home on the inside.

It's like a trip to Jordan Marsh when your mother took you to see it in Boston on the train when you were seven years old. He has everything, and more. They sing, they dance, they skate and the train goes round and round.

Frank Enos wins the Town Crier Christmas decorations contest hands down!

Honorable mentions go to the Falzone's of 27 Arlene Ave.: "Good door, lots of lights." The DiFava's on 8 River St.: "Lots of effort, soldiers on fence a nice touch."

Ten to remember (...and then some)

By Paul Hayes

With every year comes a deluge of news, some memorable, most forgettable. Here, we would like to recount those stories that have stuck with us, shaped our lives, and defined our town in the past year.

Although there may be disagreement on a couple of selections, these stories had the most press, the most discussion, and lastly the most impact on the citizens of Wilmington this year.

If you feel that a major omission was made in our pages over the course of 1998, please let us know. We want to ensure that we keep our finger on the pulse of Wilmington in 1999, and well into the next millennium.

Downtown Projects

The center of town has definitely been a center of debate, and action, this past year.

First, there are the MBTA's plans to create a $5.2 million commuter rail station with a 227 space parking lot, on the downtown site currently occupied by Action Glass, Wilmington Grain and Building Materials Co., Inc., the VFW and All Breed Dog Grooming.

Hailed by some, including Rep. Jim Miceli, as a project which will renovate a dilapidated downtown, it is seen by others, including selectmen Bob Cain and Mike McCoy, as unfair to businesses on the proposed site and a potential traffic problem.

The MBTA agreed to submit 75 percent complete plans to the town for an informal site plan review, which differs from a formal site plan review in that the MBTA is under no obligation to follow town recommendations on the project. The MBTA operates outside of town jurisdiction, and is under no obligation to work with the town.

The Planning Board continued the informal site plan review to January 19. Complete plans are expected by early next year.

California Products' proposal to move its production and corporate headquarters into a warehouse owned by GFI/Big Joe, and formerly occupied by Sweetheart Plastics, also came under scrutiny this year.

Many have protested the move, including Rep. Jim Miceli and Fire Chief Dan Stewart, because they feel the company poses a health hazard to the nearby environment and residents. California Products say they produce stable, water based products that pose no risk to the town, and point to their spotless safety record during the 72 years they have been in Cambridge as proof.

California Products' current headquarters are located on Waverly street slated to become one-way street, which will render their loading docks inoperable.

The proposal will go before numerous boards in early 1999.

Construction of the four-lane Miceli Bridge, replacing the two-lane Route 62 bridge, is expected to be completed by late 1999, although the installation of earth supports hit a snag.

The earth supports will maintain the integrity of the existing bridge and roadway while the new bridge is being built.

The Route 38 widening project is also expected to begin soon. The project will widen Main Street from Rocco's restaurant to Middlesex Avenue.

The Bus Ride

The school committee became at odds with Bruce Transportation of Hudson, NH. The bus company, in the first year of a three year contract was put under the gun for what some had seen as "major safety issues". The Safety Officer had no complaints with Bruce Transportation.

Hubby Arrest

Wilmington Police Officer Harold "Buddy" Hubby was arrested on five Class A felony charges for soliciting Kevin Brown, 39 of Newton, NH to retain five stolen tractor trailers.

Hubby was relieved of duty and faces up to 15 years on each count. The trial is scheduled for the last

Car Mart Subaru

Work to continue despite odor

By SEAN DEVLIN

WILMINGTON - With a unanimous vote Monday night the Board of Selectmen approved a temporary garage license for a local auto body shop that some abutting residents feel is the source of the strong odor of paint fumes that they say have been wafting over their Brand Street neighborhood.

The 128 Collision Center, which operates at the Subaru Car Mart dealership on Main Street, was allowed to continue operating until early February when the board will meet to discuss the results of a pending proceeding in Woburn District Court regarding the matter. Since the board tabled the issue two weeks ago, C.J. Patti, who is a trustee of the realty trust that owns the shop, has raised the exhaust stacks to 48-feet in an effort to alleviate the presence of the fumes in the neighborhood. Patti said that he has spent approximately $24,000 to date on running tests and trying to rectify the situation with the mysterious odor by installing more efficient ducts. Town Counsel Alan Altman told the board that while only time will tell whether Patti's expenditures will work in combatting the drifting smell, he believes that a serious effort is being made.

"In all fairness to Mr. Patti, I feel that he is making an effort to abate the odor," said Altman. "He is spending a considerable amount of money. I could be wrong here, but I don't think so."

Health Director Greg Erickson responded to Altman's comment by saying that he received a complaint regarding the odor that very morning and his assistant had detected it upon arrival. "Time has told us that the odor has not left," he added.

However, whatever or wherever the cause may be, Brand Avenue resident Bruce MacNeil said that the fumes were so strong outside his home Monday morning that he had to bring his sons back inside. MacNeil said that he would like all painting to cease on the site until the February proceeding since he feels that the fumes are hazardous to his family.

"Can't we stop the painting until the next step is taken?" MacNeil asked the board. "How about a break."

Also, another Brand Avenue resident, Tracy Peterson, said that a nearby compactor on the site may also be contributing to the

It's YOUR Money

THE GIFT THAT PAYS YOU

Charitable giving is not only good for society, it can be good for the donor. Properly structured, a Deferred-Payment Gift Annuity offers a tax deduction now, something like tax free buildup of investment capital, income deferral to later years, a change to lock in capital gains now while deferring taxes, guaranteed lifetime income and removal of assets from the taxable estate without gift tax consequences. Here's how it works.

The donor makes the gift now and is promised a fixed annual income some time in the future - at retirement, perhaps - for a fixed number of years or for life, even in a joint-and-survivor setup. During the deferral period, the gift is compounded annually at a predetermined rate; the annuity is based on the total sum. The tax deduction is the value of the gift minus the value of the annuity. Even more advantageous is to find the charitable donation with appreciated securities, avoiding tax on the gain.

It's Girl Scout Cookie time!

Just in time to destroy all those well-intentioned New Year's resolutions, it is time once again to order your Girl Scout Cookies. Girl Scouts from Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council will begin taking orders on January 7 for those long-awaited treats.

Expect a Girl Scout to appear on your doorstep or to ask for your order at school, the grocery store, or a community center. This year there is a new variety to tempt your taste buds - luscious "Upside-Down" Frosted Oatmeal Cookies. Why are they called Upside-Down? Because the frosting is on the bottom!

In addition to the new Upside-Downs, girls will be selling seven other cookie varieties: Thin Mints, Caramel deLites, Peanut Butter Patties, Peanut Butter Sandwich, Shortbread, Five World Cinnamons with Sugar, and Reduced Fat Lemon Pastry Cremes. The price is $3.00 per box. Cookies will be delivered beginning March 1.

When you buy Girl Scout Cookies, you get much more than a delicious treat. You also support all of the benefits that Girl Scouting provides to girls and the community. Over two-thirds of the selling price stays locally to maintain Girl Scout services for more than 12,000 girls and nearly 4,000 volunteers in northeastern Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire.

Girl Scouting is a year-round learning adventure for girls. Through the annual cookie sale, girls learn important skills such as handling money, goal setting, teamwork, meeting the public, and problem solving. The money they earn helps girls attend program events, purchase equipment and supplies, and take field trips. Girl Scouts also give back to their community through service projects such as food and clothing drives, clean-up activities, and literacy programs.

So, keep an eye out for Girl Scouts in your neighborhood selling cookies this month. And if you need an excuse to satisfy your craving and break that New Year's resolution, remember that you are doing a good deed by supporting the Girl Scouts and all the good things they do. It's a delicious way to fund the future for girls in our community.

Girl Scout Cookie * Time!

* the only snack that builds good character.

It's not too late to help

As the year winds down and the parties wind up, remember that weekend when you all donated a tractor trailer full of clothes, food and household necessities to the people of Honduras and Nicaragua. Your generosity was staggering and overwhelming.

Unfortunately it was not enough. The disasters in the Caribbean and the recent rash of fires in the Boston area have all but wiped out the reserves of the Red Cross. They need your help to help those in need.

You can still help and take a deduction in 1998. As you read this at home Thursday, New Year's Eve you can get in under the wire and make a small contribution and make a difference.

Donations can be earmarked to the particular area of aid you wish: Local disaster relief, Honduras, Central America, Hurricane Georges, HIV/AIDS or one of many other funds.

The Headline

A Raven Parody
By DAN VASSALLO

One upon a morning rainy
A scary thought went through my brain-y.
A thought so scary
It's even hairy
Not about death, blood or war
Though it frightened me right to the core.

I clearly do remember
That it was in late December
My brother's football broke a window
That shattered on the floor.
I looked at the paper's cover
And a headline I saw hover
That was so horrifying
I had to throw the paper out the door
Quoth the headline —
"President Gore"

It made my entire body shiver
From my spleen to my liver
That I couldn't read the morning paper
For quoth the headline —
"President Gore"

I felt the ground below me shaking
But this rattle I was making
There must have been a big mistaking
On the paper on the floor
Just those two words
And nothing more.

I burned the paper in the fire
Was Gore in because Clinton's a liar?
All the fright made me perspire
Was this a joke and nothing more?
We all know about Ken Starr
He took impeachment way too far.
But still stuck in my head, the headline read —
"President Gore"

I walked through the rain and snow
For I knew just where to go
Though the traffic was quite slow
Heading to my favorite store
If I saw a dreaded headline
Which I think I'd call a deadline
I hope I'd wake up in my bedline
If I went through any more.
Quoth the headline —
"President Gore"

Just thinking of the boring speaker
There could not be one thing meeker
For Al Gore is such a geeker
I couldn't think about much more.
Quoth the headline —
"President Gore."

Oh, could I go another inch?
I'm sure it wouldn't be a cinch.
So I just gave myself a pinch
To kill a dream for evermore.
I pinch myself, and I saw red!
I was lying in my bed!
I was out of this world of dread
With the headline: "President Gore."

So think again, and don't impeach
And that's what I'm trying to teach
And that Al Gore is truly a leech.
There really is nothing to say more.
President Clinton sure is better
So write your Congressman a letter.
Anything would still be better
Than to hear "President Gore."

I end this story, in conclusion,
That the whole thing was an illusion
But please don't get caught in confusion
Or you'll get STUCK with "President Gore"
I just hope that you have listened
So this country can still glisten
Instead of really swingin' and missin'
Let this be known for evermore.

TOWN CRIER NEWS NOTE: Traffic in Tewksbury and Wilmington inched along again as an accident on Rt 93 clogged Rt 38 for the early morning commute. Everyone (snow plow drivers included) would be happier if the cause of the traffic snarl was a foot of snow instead of an inch.

Residents and Post Office team up to make Toy for Tots a success

WILMINGTON - With the generosity of Wilmington and surrounding towns, two postal employees spearheaded the Toys for Tots collection at 12 Postal Service locations.

Charlie Boncore coordinated the effort with help from George McQuade. Both are maintenance employees for the Postal Service. Boncore organized drop off boxes at postal facilities for the general public and postal employees to make donations.

Besides the post office connection, Boncore and McQuade are retired from the Marine Corp. Reserves which sponsors Toys for Tots. Their's was just one effort out of many that contributed to the toy drive.

This year approximately 1,400 toys were given, up from over 1,000 last year. They filled eight to nine hampers, not counting the stuffed animals, Boncore said. One donor gave a leather Patriots jacket. "You know how expensive those are?" said Boncore. "Isn't that terrific?" They're over $300. "We received a lot of great toys," he said. The Marine Reserves distributed all donations to kids in Middlesex County.

Many in the Wilmington community gave along with the towns of Billerica, Woburn, Andover, Burlington, Wakefield, Tewksbury, Nutting Lake and Chelmsford.

As to his six-year involvement in the effort, Boncore said, "I always donated when I was in the Reserves. I like giving and I like helping. I don't want to see a kid wake up without any toys - I love to do this."

Box Office Reviews

by ERIC BRASSIL

Why do they continue to take good movies and good plays and convert them to 90's crap? This is one question you have to ask yourself before you see Shakespeare in Love. Movies like these are usually really bad or surprisingly good. Hopefully, this movie will surprise a few. It's a date movie so you wouldn't catch guys dead watching it until they're dragged into it. After, they'll probably like it, but never admit it. It's a two way street, though. The acting saves this movie: Ben Affleck, Judi Dench, Joseph Fiennes, Gwyneth Paltrow, Geoffrey Rush. They have the cast and Miramax has had amazing success with these kinds of films in the past. Prediction: B.

A Simple Plan is never as simple as it seems, especially in Hollywood. This is the case of Paramount's new movie directed by Sam Raimi (Darkman, the Evil Dead). This is the morality tale/thriller of two Midwestern brothers, one greasy-haired and unemployed, the other middle-class and married. These two brothers discover a crashed plane with a dead pilot and $4.4 million in cash. They construct "a secret plan" to keep the money, which leads to other crimes and acts needed to keep the money unknown to authorities. The plot is not new, but still very interesting. Look for strong acting from Bill Paxton, Billy Bob Thornton, and Bridget Fonda to weave the complex plot. Thornton has a way of bringing life to unemployed, smelly, greasy-haired, four-eyed roles. This movie may not be a Sling Blade, but it should be of high caliber. Prediction: A.

Thank God for Prince of Egypt. It's the Bible's story with sleek animation from Spielberg's company Dreamworks SKG. For all of you who think you are too old to see a cartoon and too lazy to go to church, maybe you should give this film a try. The voices are familiar. Val Kilmer as Moses, Ralph Fiennes (Shindler's List, The English Patient) as Rameses, Patrick Stewart as Pharaoh, Sandra Bullock as a slave girl, and other roles voiced by Michele Pfeiffer and Jeff Goldblum. Dreamworks may have set out to show there is an adult audience for animation, but there always has been. Prediction: A- (Release date December 18).

Hollywood has always found a way to find new relationship problems and put them on the big screen. This is the case of Nora Ephron's You've Got Mail! Warner Brothers may have hit the jackpot on this one. It has two talented actors, Tom Hanks and Meg Ryan, who've proven they've got a lot of on-screen magic (Sleepless in Seattle), and perhaps the best female contemporary writer/director, Nora Ephron. These things coupled with a current issue teens and young adults are sure to relate to, a relationship via e-mail and instant messages on the internet, should prove to make this a sure winner. The plot twists as the characters face a dilemma, whether to meet in person or not; yet, the audience knows they have already met and despise each other. It probably won't win any Oscars, but it should be both entertaining and amusing, poking fun at dating on-line. It's a date movie, but one guys shouldn't be too concerned about. Both sides of the dilemma are presented. Prediction: B+ (Release date Dec. 18).

Woburn Massachusetts...sounds close to home right? It's the setting for the upcoming long-awaited blockbuster A Civil Action. Adapted from Jonathan Harr's original narrative, the movie follows the fight of a local attorney, Jan Schlichtman against two corporate giants, W.R. Grace and Beatrice Food Co. It is the true story of suffering children, dying from leukemia contacted from contaminated drinking water in the 1970s. Schlichtman, played masterfully by John Travolta, fights with his small firm to the point of bankruptcy. Harr's award winning story, the direction of Steve Zaillian (wrote Shindler's List and directed Searching for Bobby Fisher), and the ensemble cast of Travolta, Robert Duvall, James Gandolfini, Dan Hedaya, John Lithgow, William H. Macy (wow, this guy is in everything), Kathleen Quinlan and Tony Shalhoub should not disappoint. The familiar scenery can only help. Of course, everyone who read the book will not be pleased with the film, but that's Hollywood. Prediction: A (Release date December 25, Limited, Jan. 3, nationwide).

Whenever there's a surge of films, Robin Williams is always in the mix. His new film, Patch Adams, is the true story of a medical student who emotionally healed his patients through laughter. What better actor to play this dynamic man than Williams, who has remained one of the most talented dramatists and funniest comedians on the big screen. The film will surely be lighthearted, comical and witty; if not because of the writing, because of William's impromptu abilities to liven every set. Take your little brother or sister to see this one, but I would wait until after Christmas. Prediction: B (Release date December 25).

Hurlyburly?? What kind of name is that for a movie? Are we lumberjacks or movie-goers? Don't let the name fool you. It's based upon David Rabe's play about a coke-addicted casting director whose life is melting around him. Suicide, love, and drugs all play their part in the movie. However, this movie, much like Good Will Hunting is a character movie, each actor gets his/her chance to build their roles into an inspirational plot twisting roller coaster. And the acting in this movie should be spectacular. Sean Penn plays the lead and is becoming more and more dynamic with each movie he makes. Other leading roles are shared by Kevin Spacey, perhaps one of the five best actors in Hollywood today, Robin Wright Pen (I wonder how she got that job - no, she really is a talented actress), Chazz Palminter, Garry Shandling (is this the same guy who did comedy for HBO), Anna Paquin, and Meg Ryan. This may be an Oscar contender if the actors live up to expectations. Prediction: A (Release date December 25+).

You knew there had to be a cheesy, horror flick somewhere. Where there are teens, there is still the need for these things. Kevin Williamson, riding off a wave of success from The Scream and I Know What You Did Last Summer franchises as well as hit WB series, Dawson's Creek, is back to his old tricks writing The Faculty. There is a slew of young actors in this movie including Elijah Wood, Robert Patrick, Shaima Hayek, and Clea Duvall. This movie is quite unoriginal, almost bleeding off the pages of those 80's books My Teacher is an Alien. The high school faculty is discovered to have secrets: they are all aliens. When the students find out, the chase begins (there always has to be a chase in these movies). Robert Rodriguez, who is known for his action devices, directed it, so there may be some surprises. The best thing this movie has going for it is that it's not a sequel. Prediction: B- (Release date December 25+).

I thought Saving Private Ryan was enough to convince me that "war is hell," but apparently the geniuses at 20th Century Fox think otherwise. A legendary director, Terrence Malick, who directed the 70's movies Badlands and Days of Heaven (which many movie-goers have never seen or heard of) returns after 20 years of leave to make yet another World War II picture. The Thin Red Line. This movie may give Saving Private Ryan a fight for the golden statue. It has some of the best acting talent in Hollywood working for it: Adrian Brody, Jim Chaplin, Sean Penn, George Clooney, John Cusack, Lukas Haas, Woody Harrelson, Nick Nolte, Bill Pullman and John Travolta. I think, though, that these guys should just melt down their own Oscars and create an award for this movie because it probably won't beat out Spielberg and his masterpiece. It is dramatically written and probably will be wonderfully directed, like no other war movie has been. But, I doubt it will sustain the same emotional scenes and visual acuity as Saving Private Ryan. Spielberg can keep polishing the mantle case, but don't miss this flick. Prediction: A. (Release date December 23, limited; mid-January nationwide).

two weeks in April at Rockingham County (NH) court.

Princeton Properties/Avalon Oaks

Salem Street became ground zero for affordable housing in Wilmington this year.

Princeton Properties initial attempt to locate a 142-unit low-income housing on Salem Street was voted down by the town Housing Partnership and Board of Selectmen, because both felt it would overburden the area, already occupied by the 204-unit Avalon Oaks low-income housing development.

Princeton Properties has appealed to the Mass. Housing Finance Agency, who could grant Princeton site approval and send them back for another shot with the town, this time before the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Of course Avalon Oaks made its presence felt when a related sewer project shut down Salem Street for nearly three months. The project halted when contractors hit solid ledge and high groundwater levels underneath a railroad crossing.

Motorists who normally used Salem Street as a cut through to Route 93 and the Ballardvale Industrial Park were forced to find detours, which contributed to heavy traffic on major roads, and increased use of residential by-ways.

Strings Attached

Ward Dilmore, director of the Strings Attached Program, wanted an increase in the stipend that reimbursed him for his work in Strings' extracurricular activities.

Dilmore figured that the hundreds of hours of personal time he put into organizing trips, concerts and lessons for his third through twelfth grade students warranted more than the half of an elementary school band programs stipend.

But the School Committee has, as of now, has been mum on the issue. And after three years of requesting the money, Dilmore intends to stop pursuing the money and focus on his students and their upcoming performances and trips.

Newhouse-Miceli race

Long-time incumbent Rep. James Miceli defeated selectman Chairman Michael Newhouse. After a long and heated war-of-words campaign, with the climax of this slugfest ending with a resounding verbal knockout punch from Miceli as the two squared off at the Town Crier sponsored debate in September.

Car Mart Subaru

Well neighbors of Car Mart Subaru, 275 Main St., certainly can. The smell of paint from Car Mart's autobody shop has been plaguing the residents of Brand Street since May.

Despite two abatement orders issued to Car Mart by the Board of Health on July 13 and Aug. 18, and a show-cause hearing in front of a Middlesex Superior Court Clerk Magistrate that has lasted over two months and was continued twice, the problem still persists.

In the meantime, Car Mart has applied to the Planning Board to raise their emission stacks to a height of 60 feet, which Planning Board members are skeptical will solve the problem. The Board of Selectmen also granted Car Mart a temporary garage license, pending solution of the problem.

Geraldine O'Donnell/Suzanne Garfield

School Superintendent Geraldine O'Donnell was reprimanded by the school committee after she failed to follow School Committee procedure, in connection with the hiring of Suzanne Garfield of Swampscott to replace James Jordan as principal of the West Intermediate School.

O'Donnell was required to submit a final copy of Garfield's contract to the School Committee prior to approval, but O'Donnell instead hired Garfield based on parameters set in an early draft of the contract.

Another candidate for the job, School Committee member Robert Young, then resigned from the Committee. Young said the decision did not relate to his candidacy to replace Jordan.

North East Solid Waste Commission

The town's money almost went up in smoke when it and the other members of the North East Solid Waste Commission (NESWC) were nearly stuck with a $48.99 million bill. Wheelabrator Laboratories, which operates NESWC's contracted incinerator in North Andover, intended to charge NESWC members the cost of retrofitting its scrubbers.

The retrofit is required by the Clean Air Act of 1990, and must be completed by 2000. The town objected, because the NESWC contract lasted until 2005, which meant the town would not benefit much from the retrofit.

In June, a Superior Court judge ruled that Wheelabrator and the NESWC share the cost of retrofitting.

Reading Municipal Light Department

The appeals of three RMLD employees seeking maximum retirement benefits were funded by RMLD rate payers. The Reading Retirement Board refused to award them the maximum benefits allowed. Through 1993 regulations, the RMLD employees were eligible to retire at 55 and still receive 80 percent of their wages.

Despite town objections to footing the bill, RMLD claimed that rates would not be affected, and said rates had not been raised since June 1, 1993.

Two of the employees won their appeals through the state Contributing Retirement Appeals Board.

Honorable Mention: Steven Stokes, 11 and Joshua Harrington, 10, were selling bait from their makeshift "Harrington's Bait Shop" when they were sent a letter from Building Inspector Daniel Paret that they were in violation of the town zoning by-laws. Paret said he received an anonymous complaint, and added that he followed up on all complaints.

On October 6, local roads were crippled after a one mile stretch of Rt. 128 was shut down when a truck carrying 10,000 gallons of natural gas overturned. Traffic clogged the primary and secondary streets of Wilmington from 6 to 11 a.m.

According to the library staff, books about the "Titanic" were in big demand in 1998. Both children and adults checked out books, videos, and the soundtrack to the popular movie. Circulation Librarian, Linda Callahan, noted that Angela's Ashes by Frank McCourt and Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil by John Berendt stayed on the in demand reserve list for many weeks. Reference Librarian Lori Hodgson said that the video North and South based on the Civil War novel by John Jakes became popular towards the end of the year. Assistant Children's Librarian, Barbara Michaud, reported that Marc Brown's books about "Arthur" the aardvark still were popular with young children in 1998. Older children asked to be put on the waiting list for the Animorphs series and the Dear America series.

Gillam also asked if bridge

In the event the bridge is closed off, the fire department or other emergency vehicles can continue along Rte. 38, State Highway Department project engineer

The public hearing only drew a crowd of three people, including Gillam. Another was Dick Wilson, assistant to Rep. Jim Miceli, who spoke on Miceli's behalf regarding the bridge renovation.

"Mr. Miceli is glad something is finally being done to repair the bridge," Wilson said.

...Girls Hoop team off to terrific start

By: AMY PETERSON
Sports Correspondent

Coming off a mediocre season last year, the 4-1 Lady Wildcats basketball team have regained stamina and built a team that has become a force to reckon with in the Cape Ann League this season.

The team's latest triumph came Monday in a nail-biting, down-to-the-wire, 56-52, victory against North Reading. The Wildcats came out playing heads up, fast and furious basketball nailing a quick five points within the first minute of play, and quickly sailed to a 10-point lead.

Leading by just five at the half, the Wildcats suffered a bit in the second half behind missed free throws and very few rebounds. North Reading's air-tight zone defense did not make it easy for any Wilmington player to get an inside shot and kept the game within just a few points.

Sophomore center Meredith Cipriani poured out a remarkable offensive and defensive game, netting a total 17 points, 16 rebounds and two blocks. However, Cipriani fouled out with 4:30 remaining in the game. Colleen Cahill stepped up in the second half for Cipriani dropping in 11 points and pulling down five rebounds.

Seniors Renee Shano and Emily King, both tri-captains, were also contributing factors to Wilmington's offensive run, finishing with 11 points and four steals, and 10 points and seven rebounds, respectively.

Junior Lindsay Bruno looks to be the key asset to the defensive game this season. Her swift, head-up, no holds-barred style of play makes it tough for any opponent to pass her by on the court. Bruno contributed two points and six assists against the Hornets.

Wilmington Head Coach, Beth Livermore, was pleased overall with the performance of her team. She said, "It was a tough game. We played hard but did create a lot of turnovers and missed a lot of rebounds."

"We have to work on those areas. It was tough at the end because a couple of our key players fouled out and we weren't hitting the free throws in crunch time."

Livermore contributes a more disciplined style of play to the success of this year's team, and is confident her team will continue to win games this season.

The Wildcats will face Newburyport Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Wilmington High School.

Cipriani a big reason for the success

By JAMIE POTE

Just five games into the season, junior center Meredith Cipriani has surely proven how vital she is to the success of the Wilmington High girls basketball team.

This program hasn't had a winning season since 1995. And if Meredith and company can play like they did against North Reading on Monday afternoon, then you can surely bet that they will have a winning season.

Already the team is 4-1 and on Monday, all the six-foot junior did was score 17 points and have 16 rebounds as she completely dominated the game down low. She also fouled out with 4:16 to go in the game.

"Meredith gets better every time she steps on the court," says her

Wrestling team takes second

The Wilmington High wrestling team has done very well lately including senior Greg Moran's championship in the 160-pound class in the recent Sons of Italy Tournament held at WHS.

On Monday, the 'Cats took second place in the Georgetown Holiday Tournament. Moran, Pat Heffernan (119), Adam DiPasquale (189) and Brian Shea (heavyweight) all took second place finishes.

Justin Strem and Paul Cheney both took thirds in the 96 and 140 weight classes, respectively.

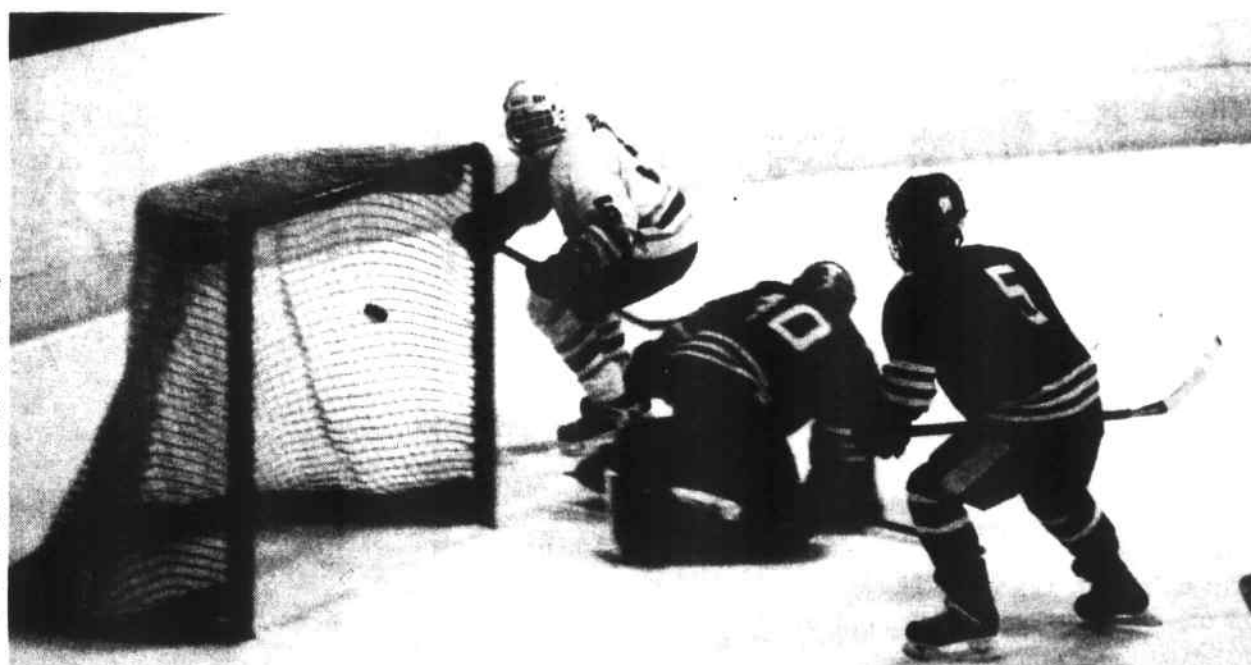

Wilmington scored 144 points in the meet, trailing Pentucket.

Wilmington will travel to Pentucket in their next league meet on January 7.

Look for complete wrestling coverage in next week's addition. (sp. ed.)

Five locals honored

Wilmington residents Adam Mazza and Jason Harris were recently named Catholic Central League All-Stars for their efforts for the Austin Prep football team. Michelle McGonagle, Liz Dorrance and Jen McNabb were named CCL All-Stars for their efforts in girls soccer for Austin as well.

As you can see here Mark DiGiovanni netted a nice goal for the Wilmington High hockey team in Tuesday's 6-1 win over Danvers to capture the Haverhill Christmas Tournament. His goal was the game winner. The hockey team is undefeated at 4-0-1 thus far. (Photo by Jeff Nazzaro).

...Hockey team undefeated, beat Central, Tewksbury

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

During a seven day period, the Wilmington High hockey team has beaten both Tewksbury and Central Catholic, as well as Danvers, to keep their undefeated record intact at 4-0-1.

It's hard to imagine the last time a Wildcat team has beaten both of those former Merrimack Valley teams in a game, nevermind the same season and within the same week.

Something must be brewin' around here.

"It's nice to come up here and get some hardware," said head coach Steve Scanlon about winning the gold division of the Haverhill tournament on Tuesday night. "It's lovely."

Wilmington defeated Danvers, 6-1, the same team who knocked them out of the state tournament last season, on Tuesday night. The night before they beat Central Catholic, one of the top teams in the MVC, 4-2. Wilmington did get a few breaks as both teams were missing some of their top guns, but Wilmington was missing one of theirs, Shawn Haubner.

In either case, this team's all out hustle is the reason why they are 4-0-1.

"We are real pleased with the way they have been playing,"

Scanlon said. "We just have to make some adjustments and make sure they keep their intensity up at all times."

"Take away opening night (against North Andover), we could easily be 0-4 (against Lynnfield, Tewksbury, Central and Danvers). We knew all four of them would be tight games. It was good [to win on Tuesday] with the revenge factor."

Wilmington had a few minor glimpses of falling apart against Danvers, or better yet not doing the things that make them such a tough team to beat. But when this team is on, their all-out hustle and tough-

Sophomore sensation out for season

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Just minutes into the second half of Sunday's 71-42 win over St. Clement's, sophomore sensation Eric Swiezynski was taken out of the Wilmington High boys basketball game.

Immediately his left arm was wrapped with a bandage.

On Monday, the news filtered, the kid would be out from anywhere from 6-12 weeks.

Chalk that up as three starting players for the Wildcat boys hoop team who cannot play for one reason or another with Peter Bamberg and Sean Quigley also looking on.

"Eric's the guy when the shot clock is winding down, we give the ball to him and he'd score. He's very good off the dribble and that is so important to have," said head coach Jim McCune. "He's our biggest guy, our best rebounder and a kid who was getting 20 points a night and that's very tough to replace with a young team. He always found ways to score the easy baskets and we're going to miss that a lot."

In the team's first few games, the younger "Swiza" had 15 points against a very tough North Andover team, and then he had a career night in the team's first win against Amesbury with 21 points, six rebounds, six steals and four assists. Against Tewksbury, he had 21 points as he really started to come into his own becoming one of the better players in the league, while just being a sophomore.

On Sunday night against St. Clement's, he struggled as he couldn't hit a shot while playing with a broken wrist. A broken wrist.

"We had two big guys, with the other being Dennis [Ingram], who could play the entire game and all we had to do is worry about subbing in for three guys," McCune said. "Now we have to redefine some roles. We have to ask passers and rebounders to become shooters and that's very hard thing to do."

"With three starters out, we're just hoping nothing else hits us."

A few wishes for the New Year

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Well as we all know 1998 is just about over and a new year will begin. This past year for Wilmington sports was terrific, while, for Tewksbury it was not so pleasant.

With that, I've come up with a few things I wish for in 1999 concerning both Tewksbury and Wilmington sports. Here goes:

The obvious question?

Well I didn't want to offend anyone by asking this question, but what is going on with Tewksbury High School sports? It's an open-end question that has to be put out. Now that I have put that question out in the air, like Billy Crystal once said in the classic movie "When Harry Met Sally," I can't take it back. I wish I could, but now I can't.

This question is being asked because ever since this school year has started, almost all of the athletic teams have struggled. In the fall, the girls cross country team and the field hockey teams were the only two teams who had winning records. The football team, girls and boys soccer, boys cross country and volleyball teams all had sub-par records.

Now thus far in the winter season, the boys hoop team is winless at 0-6, the girls finally won their first game on Sunday as they stand at 1-4, the hockey team is 2-2, while they played two Cape Ann League teams, Austin Prep and Martha's Vineyard and those last two schools you can take either way.

The girls indoor track team is off to a great start, while the boys have struggled against the teams in the large school which really don't effect them either way.

So what is going on?

It was just two years shy that I penned an article about all of the terrific athletes Tewksbury had at that point in time and the several years before that. There is still a good core there, but there has to be a reason for this nosedive?

I wish I had an answer and I wish the teams would turn things around immediately.

Better luck upcoming?

In Wilmington, I wish good luck to the ice hockey team to get more ice time since their 50 minutes of ice time is second hand in comparison to the two hours of ice time split between the one hour of chalk talk that the Tewksbury High team has and they don't even have their own ice rink.

I wish good luck to girls soccer player Val Cwiekowski who has been on crutches for eternity as doctors still don't know what's wrong her ankle after every test has been done to it. I wish a compromise can be met to those upset parents about the cancellation of the annual athletic awards banquet. Recently, Wilmington dropped it as all of the coaches wanted to do there own thing, with or without parents. I don't blame either side, the coaches, nor the parents, but hopefully something will be worked out.

As for Tewksbury, I wish for better luck this year for many people and things. Let's start with the two most obvious ones: Tewksbury coaches Leo DiRocco, softball, and Pat Ryser, field hockey. Both of them have been fortunate enough to take their respective teams to the state tournament the past few years, but both of them haven't been fortunate enough to get deep or to get past that unlucky charm.

For DiRocco and the softball team, the past two seasons have ended thanks to bum calls by the umpires. Perhaps something will change this upcoming season.

As for Ryser and the field hockey team, she is a very good coach who has resurrected that program, but the last three seasons, the team has been eliminated in the first round of the state tournament, yet, Ryser hasn't celebrated once on the sideline with a Tewksbury goal. Hopefully that will change.

Besides that I wish for a new hockey rink for Tewksbury, the boys tennis team to come back and new tennis courts in the town of Tewksbury. I also wish for a new Tewksbury nickname as "Redmen" is more than offensive.

I would like to finally say that I wish all of the athletes, coaches, parents and everyone I deal with here in the sportsworld of Wilmington, a Happy New Year.

Rams Rebound Against Northeast

by MIKE BURNS
Sports Correspondent

The Shawshen Tech boys basketball evened their seasons record with an extremely solid victory over the Northeast Knights on Thursday afternoon, 66-45. The determined Ram's exhibited considerably more aggressiveness than they showed in their seasons opener. Jeff Connor, clearly the teams floor boss, led the significantly improved guard play. For instance, in the first half, Northeast in bounded the ball under Shawshen's basket. The pass went astray and rolled into the Northeast backcourt. The Northeast players just watched, waiting for the ball to go out of bounds. Not Connor, though, as he raced down the court, picked up the ball and scored an uncontested lay up. The Rams Emmett Pulliam, hit on consecutive three point shot, to give the Rams a 21-12 lead with 4 minutes remaining in the first half. However, Northeast also hit two three point shot and closed the Shawshen lead to 27-26 at half-time.

Opening the second half, Shawshen's Jason Bruno went to work at the low post, rebounding and scoring from this position.

Pulliam scored on a full-court drive building the Rams lead to 33-27.

The Ram's defense gave Northeast absolute fits. The Knights had problems as the Rams defense forced bad passes, poor shots and three 30 second shot clock violations. Shawshen's determined defense held Northeast to only 5 points in the first 6 minutes of the second half.

Mean while, the Ram's offense started running the floor and scoring, as either guards Connor, Pulliam or Jim Dickerson would either drive to the basket or pass to Bruno or Tom Leccese down low. Shawshen continued to build their lead from 40-31 at the ten minute mark to 52-38 in the next 4 minutes, before cruising to the final outcome, 66-45.

Leading the young Rams were Jason Bruno, 16 points, 7 rebounds, Emmett Pulliam, 15 points, 4 assists, 3 steals, Jeff Connor, 14 points, 6 assists, 2 steals and Jim Dickerson, 5 rebounds and 4 deflections. The Rams played this game without their Senior forward, Carl Giangregorio, recovering from a badly sprained ankle in Tuesday's opener.

K of C Free Throw contest

The Wilmington Knights of Columbus, with the cooperation of the Wilmington Recreation Department, the High School Athletic Department and the School Department, is sponsoring its annual Basketball Free Throw Contest at the Wilmington High Gym on Saturday, January 16, 1999. The contest will begin at 9:00 a.m.

Competition is for boys and girls in the 10-11-12-13-14 age groups only. Groupings are based on your age as of January 1, 1999. There will be separate contests for boys and girls. No prior registration is necessary. Trophies will be awarded to the winners in each category and those winners can advance to District, Regional and State shoot-outs.

All boys and girls in these age groups are encouraged to come to the WHS gym on the 16th of January and participate in the shoot-out. We also ask the coaches in the Rec league and of the traveling is to recommend participation by their players. Wilmington has been well represented in the State tourney the past several years. Perhaps some of the players on your teams can reach that level as well.

Come on down and enjoy the fun!

Wildcats prevail against the other 'Cats, 5-3

In this weekends Valley League action, the New Hampshire Wildcats got their revenge on a depleted Wilmington squad beating the home town team, 5-3.

Wilmington got the best of the Northern Cats in their first meet. However, that scene would not be repeated on this day. The first period was all N.H., as they scored three quick goals.

The defensive efforts of Zach Church, Albert Fiorenza and Eric Svensson were strong, but N.H. just seemed to be in the right place at the right times. Although this obviously frustrated the Wilmington squad, we new they were not going down without a fight.

During the second period, Wilmington went to work when Derek Fitzpatrick forced the play and got the puck out in front to David Rizzo. Dave was ready and waiting, as he slid the puck right between the pipes. As "Fitzzy's" skills improve with every game, we all know he is a threat every time he touches the puck.

The line of Mike Fay, Dan Tobin and Mark Walsh also applied some heavy pressure throughout the game as they displayed some heads-up passing, which resulted in some great shots on net.

Third period action showed more of the same, as Dan Tobin took a pass from Mike Fay and scored on a stubborn N.H. netminder.

Minutes later, Justin Roberts made his contribution, as he chopped a short pass to Derek Fitzpatrick who scored the third goal for Wilmington. This left the score 4-3 with N.H. leading, but with the momentum in Wilmington's favor.

Every fan did their best to cheer on the boys in blue, in hopes of squeezing out the tying goal. Goaltender Jimmy Good, who was sporting a new look with an awesome Wildcat helmet, made four of his twelve saves in this period.

With less than a minute left, Jimmy was pulled, in the hopes that a six man assault would do the trick. As everyone knows this is a gutsy, but necessary, call by the coaches who had few options left. Unfortunately, N.H. was able to capitalize on a broken play and sent the puck into an empty Wilmington net ensuring them the win.

While the squirts were upset with the loss, one thing is for sure, their next meeting with N.H. will be very exciting.

WHS gymnastics preview

Although numbers are low, team looks for good season

By JEFF NAZZARO
Sports Correspondent

It used to be that opposing coaches would gasp when the Wilmington High School gymnastics team would march in for meets with their 20 to 25 members behind Coach Michelle Gillis. This year, says the Wildcat coach, Wilmington will be just one of the crowd - and it's a small crowd at that.

Gymnastics teams in the Merrimack Valley Conference (there is no gymnastics in the Cape Ann League, so Wilmington remained in the MVC for that one sport) are shrinking it seems and no one seems to have much experience left. For Wilmington, it was defections to other sports that hurt the most, especially considering it was the bulk of the returning gymnasts with meet experience who left.

Now, with a more manageable squad in terms of numbers, but with little experience to work with, Gillis has simple goals for the 1999 campaign, which gets under way Monday, Jan. 4 at Dracut and continues the following Wednesday at Tewksbury.

"What I hope to see is that they gain experience, have fun, and that they learn," said Gillis, who added that some of her gymnasts don't yet know what a meet is all about while others will be trying new events in meets for the first time.

With no seniors and just one junior, experience will certainly be at a premium, although eight of the 11 were members of last year's squad. The team was slated to vote for their two captains this week.

The junior on the team is Karen

Sakey; the rest are sophomores: Christie Hodge, Bethany Mutchler, Kristen Pelletier, Michelle Tobin, Kerry Martin, Marlena Spurr, Kaleena Scamman, Jen McGowen, Molly Pidgeon and Katie Dulong.

All but Mutchler, Scamman and Dulong were on the team a year ago, but Dulong is an experienced and capable club gymnast who should be a big asset to the team, according to Gillis. Along with Dulong, Gillis is looking to Pelletier, who was new to the sport as a freshman but "really picked it up quickly" to lead the team.

"I'm looking at them to get the bulk of the high scores," Gillis said.

Of Wilmington's 10 meets this season, including the concluding MVC meet, two will be at home: Jan 19 vs. Lowell and Jan. 25 vs. Billerica.

Players of the week

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

I'm changing the format a little bit on my players of the week selections. For the past few weeks I've named one female and one male athlete from both Wilmington and Tewksbury combined. Well, I'm going to name a few every week, but not promising any certain number every week. Just of course, whoever deserves it.

Wilmington:

Jr. Meredith Cipriani: For the second straight week she has dominated the boards and the scoreboard for the girl's basketball team who are off to its best start in a long time at 4-1. On Monday she had 17 points and 16 rebounds, who can second guess that?

Sr. Dennis Ingram: In three games this past week, all Ingram did was score 26 points and grab 13 boards in the boy's win over Tewksbury, score 12 points and add 10 rebounds in their win against St. Clement's - as he was taken out very early -, and finally, he scored 16 points on Monday, as he was named to the Knight of Columbus tournament team in the losing effort. In three games, he combined to average almost 18 points and six rebounds.

Tewksbury:

Sr. Roger Brasil: On the other end of Ingram's performance against Tewksbury, was Brasil's against Wilmington in the same game. Brasil scored 34 points, while in the team's sixth straight loss to Winthrop, he scored 26 points, giving him a 30-point average in the two games.

The 4x400 girls track relay team: If it weren't for Shelly Baciagalupo, Andrea Toland, Rachael O'Brien and Laura Petros, who pulled out an amazing first time finish of 4:24.8, the girls team would not be gleaming about its 3-0 start. On Monday morning, the Tewksbury-Chelmsford meet came down the final event, the relay run and these Tewksbury four, who are used to success and close finishes, barely squeaked out the victory beating Chelmsford by four tenths of a second.

Fitness Column

A well balanced protein diet

by MICHAEL BENTO
Fitness Columnist

Beware of the high protein, 40/30/30 diet plans popularized in books and magazines. Diets of this nature claim that 40 percent of a person's daily calories should come from carbohydrates (carbs), 30 percent from protein and 30 percent from fat.

Often referred to as high protein, these plans assert that carbs are the enemy to weight (fat) loss, and the 40/30/30 nutrient ratios are "balanced." Not a chance!

Most respected nutritionists will agree this is simply not the case. People will lost weight on diets like this, but the reason is not that they are high protein or low carbohydrate. The reason is that they are low calorie diets disguised as something else. Any diet containing fewer calories than needed to sustain a person's weight will work, even if it's made up exclusively of fudge brownies!

Carbs are the preferred energy source for the human body, and should constitute the majority of daily calories, about 55-65 percent. Protein calories should be around 15 percent (or 20 percent if you are involved in strenuous exercise), and fat calories below 30 percent of daily totals.

Fat can only be completely burned as energy in the presence of adequate carbs. Without enough carbs, the body turns to converting protein for energy, which means eating up some of the existing muscle.

Muscle is the body's engine, driving the metabolism. Less muscle means a slower metabolism and a better chance of storing calories as more body fat.

Don't be fooled by fad diets and outrageous claims of miracle weight loss. The best way to lose body fat and keep it off is still eating sensibly combined with exercise to enhance muscle and boost cardiovascular health.

Boys Hoop team couldn't defend tournament championship

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

When a team shoots 15-for-54 from the floor and totals 21 rebounds for the game, they aren't going to win many games with or without three of its starters.

After starting out of the gate 3-1, the Wilmington High boys basketball team took a back seat on Monday night, as they suffered the loss of sophomore sensation Eric Swiezynski for the rest of the season, before suffering the 51-39 drubbing to Lynnfield.

Wilmington couldn't defend the annual Knights of Columbus tournament, something they have captured the past three years.

It was a tough night all around for the very young hustling group. But that was just one game, there are 16 to go with the magic number at seven.

"We are going to struggle without Eric, but we have to hang tough, stay together and find a way to get into the tournament," said head coach Jim McCune. "Eric's our biggest guy, our best rebounder and a guy who we give the ball too when the shot clock is winding down. We're going to miss him a lot."

Swiezynski was averaging just about 20 points per game not counting Sunday's 71-42 win over St. Clement's in the first round of the tournament as he didn't score a point despite playing with the fractured wrist.

Wilmington started this one out down 9-6 as they took a timeout with 11:36 to go in the first half. Wilmington went on an 8-2 run from there and took the lead for the lone time of the game.

But Lynnfield stormed back with a 40-25 finish with 23 minutes left to play in the game. Wilmington had trouble rebounding, shooting, free throw shooting (1-7 in the first half), while its defense was sporadic.

But on the bright side, the team's young defense was sporadic, playing really well early on before falling thereafter. Wilmington went 1-for-7 from the line in the first half and that hurt as they trailed by four at the break.

The lone highlight of the first half was senior captain Dennis Ingram's incredible drive to the net as he switched from his right hand to his left in mid-air, laying it on off the backboard for two of the prettiest points seen.

In the second half, Wilmington missed its first 10 shots, while hitting just six from the field. Ingram nailed two freebies making the score 34-28 with 9:50 remaining and it looked as if the 'Cats had a chance to pull this out. Lynnfield added four more points as Wilmington continued to struggle from the field, shooting just 2-for-17 shots.

Sophomore Tim Riley rejuvenated the home town team when he drove through four Pioneer defenders, laying it up and cutting the lead to 43-32. Ingram followed with two more free throws, but when junior point guard Darren Arciero fouled out with 3:29 to go, the ship sunk, as the eight-point deficit quickly risen.

"If you told me before the season had started that we would be 3-2 right now, I would be pretty happy," McCune said. "Before [Sunday] night we were 2-1 and were playing very well."

"I thought we came out flat against St. Clement's, I know we won and everything but I thought we came out flat. And tonight, well, tonight was a struggle all around."

"But I'm very happy with the role players, the younger kids are playing very well off the bench. Now we have to ask more of them [with the absence of Swiezynski]."

Against St. Clement's, Wilmington won 71-42 as they had three players in double figures. Arciero led the team with 15 points, while Ingram had a nice night at 12 points and 10 rebounds. Senior Sean Cahill chipped in with 11 points and four rebounds, while Josh Howlett and Rob Perkins combined for 11 points and 11 boards from the center's position.

Last Wednesday night, Wilmington beat Tewksbury 69-61 in an exciting game. Ingram "who had the best game against Tewksbury I've seen in my ten years of coaching against Tewksbury," said McCune, was nothing short of a sensational night with 26 points and 13 rebounds.

Swiezynski also was big with 21 points.

High School Hockey

For the first time in a while, 'Cats take care of Tewksbury

By JEFF NAZZARO
Sports Correspondent

The scary thing is that by the time this newspaper hits the streets of Tewksbury, the town's high school hockey team will have played Chelmsford, arguably the best of the three MVC-DCL Div. 1 teams ranked in the top 20 in the state. The Redmen will travel to Acton-Boxborough on Saturday and then a week later Billerica comes to the Janas Rink.

Tewksbury has struggled to a 2-2 mark that consists of a 1-1 record against Division 2 Cape Ann League competition, a one-goal win over Martha's Vineyard High and a one-goal loss to Austin Prep. While none of those teams has been bad, it's safe to say none are up to the caliber of Chelmsford, Billerica, or A-B.

The Cape Ann League loss came most recently, a week ago Wednesday at Wilmington, and it was decisive. The ravenous 'Cats were all over their lethargic neighbors to the north, staking themselves to a 3-0 lead and riding it to a 5-2 win at the Ristuccia Exposition Center. It wasn't difficult for Redmen Coach Bob Ware to hang a label on this one.

"The bottom line was they were hungry and we weren't," he said. "I give Wilmington a lot of credit. They played three periods and we didn't. I give [Wilmington Coach] Steve Scanlon a lot of credit and I give his kids a lot of credit."

Forget about three periods for Tewksbury. The Red played the kind of focused, intense hockey they would have needed to beat a team like Wilmington for all of 28 seconds, the time span at the end of the second period during which they scored both their goals.

But wherever the inspired burst that pulled this moribund hockey team back into the game came from, it took all of 35 horrid seconds to evaporate into thin, cold air. That's how long it took an errant Tewksbury clear to find its way onto the stick of Wildcat sniper Justin Vallas and into the Redmen goal.

"I thought the next goal would be the pivotal one," Scanlon said of what became that fourth Wilmington strike.

And it was a killer. Tewksbury reverted back to the lackluster play that allowed the 'Cats to build a three-goal lead in the first place, while Wilmington took the shot in the arm and netted one more. The third period in fact played out much as the first period did.

"I thought it was pivotal to come out and set the tone early with physical stuff and to build on that," Scanlon said.

That's exactly what Wilmington did, bodies crashing, blades digging from the first drop of the puck until defenseman Chad Ferreira made it 3-0 midway through the second period with his second goal of the game and Tewksbury lay stunned.

Wilmington early on exploited Tewksbury's fundamental problems: a young, inexperienced defense, playing in front of an inexperienced goalie. At 4:36 of the first period, the Red D couldn't clear the zone and eventually Wilmington senior Mark DiGiovanni jumped on the rebound of a Shawn Haubner shot and poked it home.

It could have been worse just over a minute later when Ferreira nailed the crossbar with a blast from the left point and it was worse with 7:49 left when the big senior defenseman found the range from the same spot on the power play, assisted by Vallas.

The Redmen finally put some pressure on the other end late in the period, but Tewksbury transplant Mike O'Connor stoned Red standout Josh Westaway with the glove after the senior center used a sensational individual effort to work his way free in the slot.

Still, the period ended in Wilmington's favor, 2-0. Tewksbury had a couple chances in the first half of the middle 15 minutes, but the post took care of Brian Fitzpatrick's chance and O'Connor foiled junior Kevin Gilfillan, who was set up nicely by junior Anthony Labo.

So it stayed 2-0 until Ferreira pinched in from the right point and ripped a shot from a tough angle into the far, top corner with 6:36 to go in the period.

In the final minute though, Tewksbury found some much-needed life. Westaway grabbed the blocked shot of Scott Favreau in the high slot, whirled and buried it in the top corner with :34 left. Immediately following the goal, Westaway swooped down into his defensive zone, broke up a Wilmington attack, skated the puck up ice and passed it ahead to Derek Favreau, who broke in two-on-one with Labo, the latter taking a feed from Favreau and rapping it past O'Connor.

Just like that it was a one-goal game and Tewksbury held the momentum. Just like that Wilmington seized it back and with it the game. The first 35 seconds of the third period were not pretty ones for Tewksbury, who came out flat and let the Wildcats charge over them. The Redmen had at least five real chances to clear the zone and failed. They overskated the puck, jabbed at it with one-handed reaches, gave it away with errant passes. The first time they gave Vallas the puck in the slot he charitably missed the net. He was rewarded with a second chance and this time coolly potted the gift biscuit with a low slapper.

But by that time Tewksbury was already beaten. They were beaten in fact the second they walked into the Ristuccia without their appetites fully whetted for a Wilmington team that was ready, waiting, and famished for a victory.

"It's a huge win for us," said Scanlon. "These are two points we don't count on getting. I don't think we've beaten Tewksbury in 15 years."

The Redmen only have more of the same to look forward to, and against some even better teams at that.

"We're a successful program and teams are hungry for us," Ware said. "We're an asterisk on a lot of teams' schedules. If we're not hungry I guarantee they're going to be."

WHAT'S THE MAGIC NUMBER?

When you make an offer on a house, your biggest decision is how much to offer. You don't want to pay more than you have to, and sometimes it is hard to predict how much is "enough" for the sellers.

Some sellers price their homes at their bottom line and may be unwilling to negotiate, unless the house has been on the market for a long time. Others build in a little room for negotiation. Some sellers are more motivated than others to get their homes sold. Whatever your situation, it is hard to know what sellers will do until they are presented with an offer. If your offer is very low, your finances look shaky, and you ask the sellers to pick up closing costs, they may just say "no". If your original proposal is unacceptable, the seller will usually make a counter offer. While sellers like to get their asking prices, good listing agents prepare them for the possibility of receiving offers that involve some compromises.

Hockey team undefeated, beat Central and Tewksbury ness can go a long way. "The defense has already come along way," Scanlon said. "We're playing really well, but we have a long way to go." Watching this team perform at its highest peak is certainly a joy. On Tuesday night, the first forward line, who was without Haubner who has a knee injury and was replaced with junior Eric Banda, amounted for five of the goals and four assists. Senior Justin Vallas scored four goals, the team's final four, while, Mark DiGiovanni had a goal and two assists and Banda chipped in with two assists as well.

But it's the grittiness of the young defensemen such as Jay Gillis, Scott Buck and Mike Comer, the fluidity of their top blueliner, Chet Ferriera, who is playing nothing short of sensational, who make this team, as well as the flashy top trio, as exciting as they are. And it's also the drastic improvements in between the pipes from Mike O'Connor (20 svs against Danvers and 16 against Central).

When this team plays on all levels at all times, they are very quick, physical and extremely tough to beat.

"We have a bad habit of not playing defense once we get a three goal lead," Scanlon said. "Everyone is gunning for points, points, points and that's a bad habit because once that happens one breakdown occurs, and that leads to another, and to another, and so on. We have to stay focused all the time."

Wilmington jumped out to an 1-0 lead against Danvers just under three minutes into the game. After being totally outplayed, Wilmington was able to slip one in as Mike Montalto netted his first varsity goal.

In the second period the gates opened. Banda had the puck at the left boards inside the Falcons blue line and as he sent a low shot onto the net, he got drilled. The rebound came out and DiGi drove it home, 2-0 Wildcats.

It was then the Vallas show. First he raced two defenders to a loose puck, cut back beating one of them and went in alone and beautifully shifted the puck in. Then, Banda had the puck in the left corner of the Danvers end, and he sent a pass behind the net where both Vallas and DiGi stood. Vallas touched the puck and left it for DiGi who was at the far end of the net. DiGi came around the net and sent a backhand that went across in front where Vallas, who came around the net from the front, drilled the biscuit home, 4-0. Danvers scored thirty seconds later to get on the board as the second period ended thereafter.

Just twenty seconds into the final period, Vallas netted the hat trick on a rebound and that came minutes before his absolute cannon slap shot that beat the goalie glove side as Vallas celebrated before the glove had gone up. It was vintage Ray Bourque, completely awesome. The game ended at 6-1.

Against Central, the trio of Vallas and DiGiovanni (1 goal, two assists each) and Banda (1 goal and 1 assist) combined for three goals and five assists, while, T.J. Flynn netted the other and Jason Loring and Ferriera also picked up helpers.

Wilmington will host North Reading, who has one of the top goaltenders around who is giving many top teams a lot of trouble, on Saturday at 2:30 at the Ristuccia Rink. Wilmington will then host Masconomet, one of their top rivals, on Wednesday, January 6 at 7:20 pm.

Mite A's take on Nashua in youth hockey action

The Wilmington Mite 1 team played Nashua NH in Dual State bright and early the day after Christmas. Santa must have been good to them because they came out flying. Kevin Fitzpatrick was goaltender for this match.

The game was fast and intense with both teams skating hard and playing great hockey. Ernie Mello, Max Wilkins, Corey Tobin, Eric Siegel, Greg Good, Jason Yeomelakis, Michael Enwright and Timmy Cushing were relentless putting pressure on Nashua and getting some great shots on a hot goalie.

The defense was just as good with Sean Dighton, Sean Fay, Nicholas Robage and Michael Robage playing smart, strong defense. This was becoming a battle of the goalies with each on coming up big but the edge goes to Kevin Fitzpatrick who glove saved a rocket in the second to keep this contest scoreless.

The third period saw more of the same. All the kids working hard waiting for a break. It came with four minutes left in the game with Sean Fay getting the puck to Corey Tobin who passed it to Max Wilkins. Max let it rip and the Wildcats were up by one.

The game then picked up a level with Nashua getting physical and Wilmington holding their own. The defense held the fort dumping the puck and keeping Nashua away from Kevin. With 34 seconds left Nicholas Robage passed the puck up to Timmy Cushing who went in all alone and put a nice one passed the Nashua goalie.

Wilmington 5, Lynnfield 2

Sunday morning the Wildcats faced Lynnfield for a Valley League game. Kevin Fitzpatrick was between the pipes.

Wilmington looked a little sluggish in the first few minutes getting trapped in their zone, but shortly snapped out of it with Timmy Cushing lighting the lamp and Max Wilkins and Ernie Mello assisting. Later in the first Jarred Mitrano would pop one in on a Greg Good rebound.

Second period Wilmington would expand their lead with Timmy Cushing coming down alone making the goalie commit and then slipping it right behind him. In the third Greg Good scored with Max Wilkins and Michael Robage assisting. Lynnfield stormed back and got two of their own in just over one minute.

The flow game was beginning to change so the defense of Brian Svensson, Nicholas Robage, Michael Robage and Sean Fay so to it that it was the last time they would get close to their goalie. Kevin Fitzpatrick looked ready if that did happen.

Offensively, Timmy Cushing, Jarred Mitrano, Michael Enwright, Jason Yeomelakis, Greg Good, Eric Siegel, Corey Tobin, Max Wilkins, and Ernie Mello took charge. Max Wilkins got the final goal for Wilmington with Ernie Mello and Timmy Cushing assisting.

Wilmington High junior Meredith Cipriani in action during last year's season.

head coach Beth Livermoore.

Last season, Meredith was a bench player who came on towards the end of the season becoming a starter who played very well for a sophomore. Nowadays she can be seen as a force down low in the offensive zone, cashing in on all of the missed shots that her teammates made, while, showing off her posting up moves as well.

"I just practice at one hundred percent all of the time and try to improve on everything," she said.

One of the reasons why this team has struggled the past two seasons was their shot selection. While beforehand they had trouble rebounding, they don't anymore as Cipriani is more than a vacuum. Wilmington as a team has improved drastically, as has their shot selection. But it doesn't hurt when you have someone who can put up those numbers almost every game as a junior.

"We have paced ourselves this season," she said about the difference between last season and this one thus far. "We don't panic when we have the ball anymore."

In every game this season, Cipriani has done more than rebounding and scoring points. She has also been tough defensively.

"She's a very coachable kid who gives one hundred percent all of the time, in practice and in games," Livermoore said.

Squirt I youth hockey team loaded with fun filled games

The Wilmington Squirt I youth hockey team played in the Tewksbury tournament this past week and their first opponent was Beverly. The Cats had already skated one hard, heck of a game less than one hour before. A lot was to be asked of the players!

To make this short and sweet, the Beverly team scored first in the first, they seemed to have the momentum. After that score, it was a dog fight, but the Cats were coming alive. At the end of the second, 1-0 Beverly.

In the third, the Cats opened up! Michael McMahon zoomed from end to end to tie it up. Nice goal. Steve Stokes put one away on a beautiful shot with excellent passes from Tony Resendes and Nick Yeomelakis.

Ray Gravelle then sent Tony Resendes away for a pretty top shelf goal. Tony then set up David Griffin for his nice shot. Four unanswered goals from a tired bunch of kids.

Every one else was involved in this one just as much as the guys on the score sheet. This was a total team effort one they should be proud of.

The other unsung heroes are Scott Sferazza, Ray Bennett, Steve Peterson, Warren Fitzpatrick, George Dighton, Jason Buckley and Scott Dunnett. Fantastic come back and game guys.

The Cats have secured a spot in the tournament playoffs with this come back bid. Final 4-1. Cats. 2-0 record so far in the Tewksbury Tournament.

Dunnett and Michael McMahon made a great play at the blue line to set him up.

Not to be out done, Ray Gravelle put his shot away with some great passing by Billy Schultes and Nick Yeomelakis to set up the play. Decent period of hockey 2-0 Cats.

Again the Redmen came out flying and put one on the board with a little mishap by the Cats but this certainly didn't slow them down. Warren Fitzpatrick and Ray Bennett played solid defense in front of Scott Sferazza while also sending Tony Resendes on his way to score #3.

Late in the period with play at both ends of the ice, Tony Resendes set up Steve Stokes who put a nice shot on net for score #4. Great game so far - 4-1 Cats.

In the third, both goalies took over with save after save taking place. Again when needed Scotty Sferazza came up with some great saves. Steve Peterson and Jason Buckley played some fine aggressive hockey only to be stoned by their goalie.

Finally near the end, the Redmen slipped one in only to have Nick Yeomelakis put one away with a great pass from Dave Griffin setting up the score.

Final 5-2 Cats. Good start in the tournament for the Cats. Keep up the great play and thanks Arena Authority.

Squirts vsB urlington

With Christmas still in the kids heads, the play of the team was in question. The Cats are involved in the Tewksbury Squirt Tournament having played their first game at 7 a.m. the day after Christmas, showing their determination in a superb effort.

Burlington was the next in line but this would be in the Valley League, again the Cats came to play and play they did. In the past games the Cats have had with Burlington, the Wilmington's have had the advantage.

This game was all Cats with the final being 9-3 Cats, good showing for after Christmas.

Short and sweet by the scoring sheet, Dave Griffin got four goals, George Dighton two, Jason Buckley, Tony Resendes and Steve Stokes each got one.

With so many goals the assists were basically to everyone else that skated. Ray Gravelle, Steve Peterson, Warren Fitzpatrick, Scott Dunnett, Michael McMahon and Nick Yeomelakis all had a hand in the scoring in this game.

Scott Sferazza, our goal tender, had another decent game with several fantastic saves when our forward people just wanted to score.

Overall, a very pretty game to have seen as a Cat fan. For the most part, an excellent game played from start to finish by the Cat players, good heads up play and smart decisions by the players.

The Wilmington Squirt I's are now 6-0-1 in Valley League action, good enough for first place. With Dover up next, tough times are a-comin! Thanks Arena Authority.

'Cats vs Hillies

The Cats have played Haverhill twice before with a sound win in the first one and a nail biter win in the second. This game was also in the nail biter column with the game ending in a 3-3 tie. What a game to watch with another tournament game a couple hours later.

In the first, the Cats kept their trademark and notched the first goal. Scott Dunnett put it away with the helpers going to Nick Yeomelakis and Steve Stokes.

Five minutes later a missed assignment led to Haverhill's first goal. The game was definitely a very fast paced contest with the Cats getting the brunt of shots, as usual Scotty Sferazza was their to shut down most of Haverhill's attacks.

A lot of the low scoring games we have had are also a tribute to our defense of Michael McMahon, Ray Bennett, Ray Gravelle and Warren Fitzpatrick.

Second period play was identical to the first with Scotty Dunnett getting his second from Nick again. George Dighton, Steve Peterson and Jason Buckley forechecked furiously putting shots on their goalie from all angles. The rebounds were bouncing the other way the whole game. The score was tied at two after two.

In the third, Haverhill had a scrum in front of Scotty and a long whistle allowed the puck to be knocked in. Nick Yeomelakis came right back shortly there after to tie the score with help from Scotty Dunnett. Tony Resendes and Jason Buckley poured multiple shots on net but to no avail. Three all at end of three.

The Cats were definitely on the upper end of the play but a tough goalie, missed shots and bad bounces all had an effect on the outcome.

Outshooting the opponent with a 3-to-1 ratio, one would expect different results. Nonetheless, an excellent game to have seen.

The Cats are now 6-0-2 in Valley league play. This game was one of the best games played so far this season. On to the next game, Tewksbury Tourney in 1 hour. GO CATS!

Tewksbury Mite II's take two

The Tewksbury Mite II hockey team, sponsored by Griffin Greenhouse Supply, received two wins for Christmas over the holiday weekend, beating the Masco II team Saturday at Merrimack College in Valley League competition and beating a tough Lynnfield II team to begin the Burbank tournament, leaving both their opponents with empty stockings.

Both games featured tough defense and outstanding goaltending by the Redmen. Goaltenders Nick Giasullo and Justin Marra split the netminding duties for the young elves, allowing just one goal by their opponents.

The defensive reindeer who stood tall in front of the goalies included Steven Gatti, Derek Murphy, Danny Duby, Steven Marazzi, and Tim Frasier.

In the first game, Masco jumped out to a quick lead at 8:17 the first period, while the Redmen were held scoreless. The hard fought second period saw great back and forth play with the line of Mike Taylor, Marc Legere, and Steve Shaiknee getting numerous scoring chances. Late in the second, star defenseman Dan Duby went down with an injury and had to be taken off the ice.

Finally with just eight seconds left in the period, scoring machine Dan Mazzei lit the tree, unassisted, to tie the game.

The third was another hard fought period with the defensive line of Corey Hamilton, Robert McVey, and Rob Doe helping to hold Masco scoreless.

With just fifty-seven seconds left to go in the game, it was Dan Mazzei again scoring, assisted by his partners T.J. Greene and D.J. Tanner. The win brings the Mite II record to 5-1-1 in Valley League competition.

In the second game, again the goaltending tandem of Marra and Giasullo came up big, pitching a shutout behind the great Redmen defense. It was T.J. Greene who opened the scoring at 7:46 of the first period on a nice shot off of a Dan Mazzei rebound.

The second period saw center Corey Hamilton score unassisted to close the scoring and give Tewksbury the first win on the road to what they hope will be Burbank Tournament victory.

All of the team said after both games that it was team mate Jim McGonigle who gave them the inspiration to play so hard as he stood in street clothes on the bench rooting them on.

McGonigle will be out of action for a while after suffering injuries resulting from an accident, but he remains an integral part of the team.

Squirts vs Tewksbury

Saturday Dec. 26, the Wilmington Squirt A's played the Tewksbury A's in the Tewksbury Squirt Tournament.

Every year the team has skated in their tournament and a great time was enjoyed with good competition encountered. This year was going to be no different with a great game taking place between these two teams with the Cats coming out on top 5-2.

In the first, the Redmen came out fired up taking the play right at the Cats! Scotty Sferazza stopped several labeled shots the Redmen were allowed to take and hoped his team mates woke up.

After a shift, each of the Cats started coming alive. George Dighton knocked one in after Scott

Tewksbury youth basketball action

Nets 55 Nuggets 47

The Nets improved their record to 4-0 with a total team effort led by the inspired play of Brian Temmallo, Brad Petrishen and Dave Tiberio. The Nuggets received exceptional games from Ryan Balcom and Mark Davis, 10 points each and John Scholl, 6 points and strong defense.

Eagles 43 Friars 31

The Eagles continue to play well as they out-gunned the previously unbeaten Friars. Eagle standouts were Patrick Connor, Nick Nawossa and Jeff Solis. The Friars never quit and played hard throughout this game with strong efforts from Mike Murphy, Matt Hirsch and Mike D'Onofrio.

Jazz 54 Heat 43

This was a seesaw battle that saw the Jazz overcome an 11 point lead as both teams hustled all over the floor. The Jazz were led by Jay Knight, 19 points and the defensive skill of Kevin Gillotte and Dave Nguyen.

The Heat received great play from Mike Williams, 16 points, Brandon Lentz and Matt Plant.

Bullets 54 Sonics 42

The Bullets evened their record and continue to play well led by the consistent play of Eric Smith, Sam Kepeyan and Matt Monico. The Sonics played hard and received strong games from Alex Herzog, Brian Fialkowski and C.J. Harvey.

Hornets 47 Pistons 45

The Hornets pulled out a win in the hard fought game on a last second basket by Steve Stoki. Brian Hamilton and Dan Johnson were also key contributors in this battle. The Pistons would not go down without a fight and were led by Dan Sesmond with 14 points and exceptional defense from Kevin O'Neil and Mike Barrell.

Results for Saturday, 12/26, Junior Division:

Sixers 40 Hoyas 16

Sean Day took over offensively to lead the Sixers to their 6th straight victory. Playing well for the Sixers was Scott Shugrue on defense and Patrick Devlin, who pounded the boards at both ends of the floor. The Hoyas let it get away in the 3rd quarter despite Jonathan Chin working the baseline with some great deny defense. Jason Montez also pitched in with some hard-nose defense, while Billy McKenna tried to keep his team in the game with steady offensive pressure.

Lakers 32 Warriors 24

The Lakers Eric Restuccia provided the spark to help the Lakers pull away for the win to improve to 4-2 on the year. Jason Zenga chipped in with some key rebounds and great defense, while Chris Bruno ran the floor well. The Warriors' James O'Toole had a great game once again offensively, while Brian Kilfoyle and Keith Tashjian chipped in with defense and rebounding to keep it close.

Celtics 41 Suns 16

The Celtics continue to improve as they posted their 2nd win of the year in beating the Suns. Robert Trayah's 14 points with Justin Berquist effectively running the offense gave the Celtics a comfortable lead. Matt Doherty's choking defense and rebounding kept the Suns at bay. The Suns Eric Southward, Billy Tarpey, and Minel Patel played well in a tough game as they never relented.

Cavs 51 Clippers 29

Nick Ianetta (16) and David Barbato (8) led the offense for the Cavs as they improved to 5-1 on the season. Brian Adams' relentless defensive pressure kept the Clippers from coming back in this one. Tim Scanlon played tough for the Clippers with help from Scott Peters and Mark Pitts.

Tewksbury Mite III's split over the weekend

The Tewksbury Mite 3 team split a pair of games over the past weekend closed-out 1998 on a high note. After going down to Haverhill by one on Saturday, Tewksbury turned the tables on Marblehead the following day.

Ryan Ahearn led the Tewksbury squad on Saturday by notching the teams only two goals, both on end-to-end rushes. On both goals, Ryan bobbed and weaved around several members of the Haverhill team and beat the goalie with some good goal scorer dekes.

Unfortunately, Haverhill was able to hold off Tewksbury after scoring the game winning goal midway through the third period.

On Sunday, Tewksbury shook off their Christmas cheer and defeated Marblehead in a spirited contest.

After a scoreless first period, Tewksbury fell behind early in the second. However, Cody Legro immediately answered the call and tied the game at one 30 seconds later. Cody pounced on a rebound in front of a prone Marblehead goalie and calmly lifted a backhand into the net. Assists on the play went to Nick Rose and Ryan Ahearn.

With just over thirty seconds to play in the period, Cory O'Brien tied the game again for Tewksbury, as he buried his rebound opportunity. Setting up Cory were Jon Deshler and Nick Rose.

Both teams came out flying in the third period, determined to skate off with a victory. However, defensive coach Rich Deshler had his defense ready, as Shawn Bradley, Jonathan Deshler, George Barnes and Ryan Ahearn, would not let Marblehead mount an attack, out-hustling and out-maneuvering Marblehead on every occasion.

With just over five minutes remaining, Matt Friedland, bouncing back from a hard fall in the first period, scored a the game winner for Tewksbury.

Nick "The Playmaker" Rose (his third assist of the game) and David Couture (his first game not playing as a goalie) got the helpers on Matt's goal, as he showed tremendous hustle to get to a loose puck in the offensive zone.

Prayer to Saint Jude

Most holy apostle St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the name of the traitor who delivered your beloved Master into the hands of His enemies has caused you to be forgotten by many, but the Church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things despaired of. Pray for me who am so miserable; make use I implore you, of that particular privilege accorded to you, to bring visible and speedy help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolations and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations, and sufferings, particularly - (request) and that I may bless God with you and all the elect forever I promise you, O blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favor, and I will never cease to honor you as my special and powerful patron and to gratefully encourage devotion to you

Wilmington Senior Topics

WILMINGTON - Today I want thank everyone who was a part of our "Giving Tree." Every day we tend to hear about the "bad" people in our society and we tend to lose faith in mankind. Well, let me renew the faith for you. This year was our first year to have a holiday tree called the "Giving Tree." This tree gave everyone in the community the opportunity to help elderly people in our town. Once it became public, people of all, I repeat all, ages came to send holiday cheer to the seniors in our town. I had the opportunity to meet young families with their children to pick an ornament off the tree. For example: A young family, with two young daughters, came to the center to get an ornament. The girls were very proud to come back to the center with their wrapped gifts that they had picked out themselves with their own allowance money. They also added a personal note, wishing a senior a happy holiday. We also had a 24-year-old gentleman, who wanted to remain anonymous, who gave his mother $100.00 to get as many gifts as possible to help our seniors. Lastly, every gift had a special handmade ornament made by the first grade CCD class of St. Thomas of Villanova. This is just a small example of the generosity in the townfolk of Wilmington. I want to share that upon delivery of these gifts, the seniors were extremely appreciative. In fact, several had tears of joy. Some also shared with me that they had never received a gift since they were a child.

Thanks again to all who were a part of this and to the many people who called and donated gift certificates and beautiful plants.

I want to wish everyone a Happy New Year and, to all the seniors, on January 6, 1999 we will be having a small holiday gathering at the center with live music. Come join the fun. Please sign up or call in by Monday, January 4, 1999. Please call if transportation is needed.

Big family, giant stocking

It seems only fitting that a giant Christmas Stocking was given to a very large family. Lucci's Supermarket was giving away in a raffle a giant Christmas Stocking stuffed with all kinds of goodies and toys. The temptation was too much to resist for eight year old Tommy Luce of Parker Street, Wilmington. He entered, hoped and won!

Tommy has four brothers and seven sisters. Counting Mom and Dad that makes a family of 14 happy people.

About The Towns by Phyllis Nissen

Heroes for '99

Everett in Stoneham

"It's called the trucking industry's equivalent of the Superbowl and...a Stoneham native proved himself one of the trucking's elite when he took first place in the National Truck Driving Competition," notes the "Stoneham Independent."

"Everett S. Macmaster, formerly of Green Street and currently a resident of Falmouth, Maine, won one of the industry's highest honors when he competed in the four-axle class of the annual contest, sponsored by the American Trucking Association."

"This was Macmaster's second trip to the national competition which was held in Long Beach, California. He qualified for the competition in 1992 as well and, that year, traveled to Nashville to compete."

"Just to get to go is great. It's a lifelong dream if you're in this business," stated Macmaster.

"To earn the opportunity to compete on the national level, a driver must win his or her own state competition. Macmaster took first place in Maine's competition this year...."

"The program, which was presided over by acting Governor Paul Cellucci, featured awards given to firefighters from across the state for heroic rescues and extraordinary community service in 1997."

"Lt. Myette and firefighter Marsinelli were honored for their Dec. 20, 1997 rescue of a 50-year-old resident of a burning apartment building...."

Future perfect in Stoneham, Woburn and Reading

"Family. Marriage. They're words not often associated with a football team and its staff, or a program now universally recognized as the most dominant in the Middlesex League during the decade of the 1990's," notes the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"But they are the words both Reading head coach Tom Kasprzak, his staff, and his peers around the league use to describe the last eight years of Reading High football, its incredible change and transformation into a program that has most recently assured itself a place in the record books."

"This season marks the fourth consecutive Middlesex League title won under Kasprzak's tenure, the latest clinched with an innocuous 34-13 win at (fittingly named) Victory Field in Watertown. No team in the modern history of the league (since its current incarnation in 1956) has ever accomplished that feat.

"Since 1991, when Kasprzak elected to leave his head coaching job in Stoneham for a new challenge in Reading, the Rockets have attained an unequivocal level of success - five titles in eight seasons, an overall record of 63 wins, 17 losses and three ties, victories in two of three Super Bowls and now, most recently, a fourth Bowl berth in 1998, to be held Dec. 5 at Boston University against Bay State Conference opponent Braintree."

"It's an unbelievable accomplishment - four years in a row," said Woburn head coach Rocky Nelson, a stiff rival of Kasprzak in-season but a good friend off the field. "When he made the decision to go from Stoneham to Reading it's been the perfect marriage. He's done a great job."

"What makes it all even sweeter this year has been the team's grace under pressure - despite being a marked club every week, Reading has managed to rise to the occasion and defeat the upset-minded both on the road and at home."

"I think it's a great feeling of accomplishment for our entire staff and our team, and the biggest reason is that everyone really gears up to play hard against you," said Kasprzak. "Since the Belmont game, everyone has come with the idea, we're gonna show these guys, and knock them off the apple cart...."

MCAS scores

work it takes."

But on December 11, a day after the media embargo was lifted off the dreaded MCAS, the sun still came up, life went on and some local administrators, teachers and students were recognized for their perseverance and success amid a sea of criticism and purported test failures.

Fourth graders in Winchester and Woburn were among the state's elite in the English Language Arts, Mathematics and Science and Technology areas.

Ranked by the percentage of students who scored either advanced or proficient on the test, five elementary schools from Woburn or Winchester ranked in the top twenty, including the Ambrose Elementary (3rd, Win.), Goodyear Elementary (4th, Wob.), Linscott Rumford School (9th, Wob.), Lincoln School (14th, Win.), and the Vinson Owen School (18th, Win.).

"It's really a community effort," said Ambrose School Principal Laurie Traugot. "We have the support of parents, hard-working students and a talented staff. The children employed all their strategies, and took their time and applied their background knowledge."

"This is not just a test of the fourth grade," said Goodyear Principal Ed Callahan. "It's a result of what goes on at every grade in the school. You can't do it in just one year."

"If we do well we can all share the credit," added Callahan. "But if we do badly, we all share in that too."

"Our parents are incredibly involved in areas that directly impact the child's learning," said Lincoln School Principal Rich Burchill. "The enrichment program, the library, the mentor program for fourth and fifth graders, the junior books program, the publishing center and parents in classrooms. We try to stress that we're a learning community here."

The advantage of the MCAS test is the amount of information that can be culled from just one round of testing. Test results can be broken down question by question, and can also be narrowed into the three main categories (Math, Science, English) and then even further into categories of categories (eg. Trigonometry, Biology, reading comprehension, writing essays etc.).

A school department can pinpoint the exact areas of shortcomings, but also can see the area where their particular academic light shines most brightly.

For example, the Goodyear School (91%) and Ambrose School (90%) finished first and second respectively in the fourth grade math test.

halfback later in the season. The team advanced to the NCAA Division 1 Eastern Championship tourney.

•WOBURN'S CHRIS CALAHAN. the starting quarterback for Vermont Academy's football team, ran for six touchdowns this year, including one of 71 yards. The team's record was 6-3 this year.

•The Central Massachusetts Mavericks Baseball Club will be holding fall tryouts in Reading for players who will be 13 or 14 years old by next spring. Team selection will be made at the end of October, for play next season. There is no cost for tryouts. The total cost of the program is $50. Teams will play in the Massachusetts AAU Junior Olympic Baseball Program. For more information and to register for tryouts call 1-508-842-5725.

•TEWKSBURY'S MIKE ADAMS was a member of the 400 Free Relay team at UMass-Dartmouth that captured its second victory in as many outings at a recent swim meet.

•WOBURN'S KAREN FRANSON. a former All-League player at Woburn High, was a freshman member of the women's soccer team this Fall at Merrimack College.

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: Bobby Thomson (number 23) hit it off Ralph Branca (Number 13) during the 1951 playoff between the Dodgers and the Giants. Congratulations to those who answered the question correctly, and look for this space next week to find another sports-related trivia question.

•DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please mail it to: Paul Feely, Middlesex East Sports, P.O. Box 240, Reading, Ma., 01867, or call Paul at 781-944-2200 between 7 am and 3:30 pm, Monday through Friday, or fax information at 781-942-0884.

The reason for the success at the Woburn Elementary level may be the educational themes that each school adopts. Assistant Superintendent of the Woburn School System Louise Nolan applied for, and was awarded, three separate grants to designate a theme for each of the schools.

"We started 'theme schools' a few years ago and the Goodyear became the math theme school and the Linscott became the science theme school," said Nolan of the grants which afforded the schools extra materials and teacher training sessions. "But we also have a wonderful collection of teachers, administrators, and parents. And the children have such a great interest in learning."

At the eighth grade level, the scores weren't quite as sparkling as their shorter counterparts, but seven schools from the Middlesex East readership scored over fifty percent proficient: McCall Middle (Winchester), Arthur Coolidge Middle (Reading), Walter Parker Middle (Reading), Stoneham Middle and John Kennedy Middle (Burlington), North Reading Middle and Lynnfield Middle.

While the results are not cause for red-faced embarrassment, most schools are not going to rest on their half-way proficient laurels.

"We certainly have some encouraging starting points," said Stoneham Superintendent Joseph Connolly alluding to the eighty-one percent and seventy-four percent scored by the eighth and tenth graders respectively. "From the results of the first MCAS exam, it is clear that we have a lot of work to do in Stoneham, and in the state."

"We are very encouraged to see that North Reading, no matter which way you project the data, comes out on the top of school districts all across the Commonwealth," said Superintendent of North Reading Schools. "We now have to look to ways to push forward the students who need improvement in certain areas."

The rarified fifty percent MCAS 'Mendoza Line' thinned out even more at the tenth grade level where only four schools had half of their students averaging a proficient score in all three academic criteria. The four schools were: Winchester High (60%), Stoneham High (52%), Lynnfield High (51%) and Reading High (50%).

Some administrators wonder if a lackluster effort from the high-school test takers could have thrown off the results.

Wilmington Director of Curriculum, Dr. Laurie Nelson said it was obvious that some students "Christmas-treed" the test, making decorative patterns with the penciled-in bubbles on the multiple choice test sheet.

"Even the tests that don't affect graduation status count, they count for Wilmington, and give us student pride," said Wilmington Superintendent O'Donnell of a high school that scored an area low twenty-six percent at the tenth grade level.

Another factor, beside the aspiring pencil artists, in the outcome of the tests is the involvement, enthusiasm and encouragement bestowed on the kids by their parents. The entire Wakefield school system, with the exception of the Montrose School which scored fairly well, hovered around the forty percent proficient mark. Rose Ditullio, Deputy of Curriculum, had scheduled an informational assembly for parents at the Galvin Middle School Auditorium expecting a large crowd. Instead she spoke to largely empty seats, and the parents that did materialize were mostly parents of second and third graders; students who are now gearing up for the test.

"This (the students result) is a partnership between parents and the school system," said Rose Ditullio. "We can implement the most aggressive tutoring program, but if we don't have the support and encouragement from the parents for their kids, it's not going to work."

Perhaps the most promising piece of information about the MCAS is that it's not a grudge match competition between town school systems. Schools at the bottom of the learning curve have a chance to learn from the successful schools, and catch up to them by the time the test has been perfected.

"In places like the Ambrose School, educators can share methods," said Superintendent of Winchester Schools Carol Eaton of the preparation for the MCAS. "Teachers at other schools can learn what they're doing at the Ambrose School and then copy it."

One thing is for certain: The passing of an MCAS test will become a mandatory accomplishment for graduating seniors tentatively beginning in 2003. By that time, the Christmas tree test designs will be a thing of the past, and the emphasis will be put on a higher and more advanced academic development and higher learning quotient.

"I'd like to see more MCAS type questions incorporated into the test," said Assistant Superintendent of Winchester, Dr. Stephen Foster. "Because they're good questions, not because we're teaching to the test."

"What does that mean?" Some commonly used Real Estate terms and definitions follow for your information:

FANNIE MAE. Federal National Mortgage Association.

FIDUCIARY. One in a position of trust and confidence, as a broker with respect to a principal.

FIRST MORTGAGE. The mortgage loan with the highest priority for repayment in event of foreclosure.

FIXTURE. An object that has been attached to land so as to become real estate.

FREDDIE MAC. Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation.

FUNCTIONAL OBSOLESCENCE. Depreciation resulting from inadequate improvements or improper design for today's needs.

Woodchips

ANTHONY MANCONI

Many of us had a typical American Christmas; the TREES came from Canada; the ORNAMENTS came from Hong Kong, the IDEA came from Bethlehem.

My Aunt Nora sent me her customary present-a Box of Christmas Neckties. They look like they were made during an explosion in a Pizza Parlor. The outrageous stripes and colors make them ideal for tying up tomato plants. No birds, gypsy moths or beetles dare to come close to them.

I gave Kathy a present that contained 13 beautiful diamonds. When she opened it at our family Christmas party, she threw the whole deck of 52 cards at me shouting, "You Worm! Just for that you can cook your own breakfast from now on!"

I read where a man was arrested for doing his Christmas Shopping early. They caught the poor chap in the store at two in the morning.

The Barber Shop Quartet at the Elks Lodge I belong to sound better when the BASSES are LOADED.

Folks, all the beautiful sentiments in the world weigh less than a SINGLE CHARITABLE ACT.

Folks, many of us have enjoyed seeing the Shriners and their comical antics as they marched in parades. Well, let me assure you that it isn't all, "FEZZES" FUN" and, FRIVOLITY" with these members of the Masons. They are people in all walks of life who maintain and support many hospitals in many countries, like the "BURNS HOSPITAL" in Boston. They contribute in many ways to the progress of their communities. They try to live their individual and moral convictions showing this by, EXAMPLE rather than by WORDS.

Folks, do you see greatness in a "SMILE"? Can we look beyond that priceless gift and recognize the "LIGHT" of encouragement, the "RAY" of "HOPE", the, "WARMTH" and "LOVE" that's behind that smile? Folks, the wonderful thing about a smile is, that we never know where it will end and how many lives it will enrich and how many burdens it will ease. Folks, that is the "Reason and Hope for Woodchips."

The late Rev. Norman Vincent Peale said, "Attitudes are more important than facts."

PERSONALITY WINNERS, Jennifer and Erica McLaughlin, Katelyn Shaughnessy, Ryan Maguire, Melissa Skeffington, Christine Aguiar, Seana Rae, Steve Donaghey, Ron Hobby, Julie Longo and Vanessa Melanson all of WOBURN.

J. Lawrence Mawn, Matt

Brendan Clark, Jamie Lynch, Bill Brian, Jim and John Dudley, Christina Hodgkins, Paul Litterio, Irene Nicolaides, Michael McGlathery, Carol Sykes, Michael and Karol McLaughlin, Owen MacDonald and Julie McLaughlin all of READING.

Scott Tracey, Chris Lutkevich, Dave Forster, Shawn Timmons, Jared Waitt, Lucy Sweeney, Robert Brennan, Janice Mirabassi and Jim and Ginny Beebe all of WAKEFIELD.

Helen Vona-Levens, Jaclyn Tammarp, Patricia Norelli, Barbara Mahoney, Police George Alger, Elaine Rando, Chris Rando, Joe Haggerty, Erin McMenimen and Bill Adam all of STONEHAM.

Wayne and Cathy Crawford, Jason Silverstein, Michael Tarantino, Brian Tildsley, Christopher Vaillancourt, Courtney Figucia, Sarah Ippolito, Melissa Mahoney, Rev. Robert Browne and Maureen Lemloureaux all of WILMINGTON.

MONOPOLY'S HISTORIC BOSTON EDITION hit the streets this Christmas with the same familiar set-up but with many well known Boston locations like the Old North Church and the USS Constitution. It is available in many local stores.

Maney, Barbara Burbank, Marie Fabbri, Violet Glod, Fran Johnson, Jessie Klutowski, Jimmy "Pottsie" Geary, Fr. Jack Farrell and Atty. Peter and Donna Aloisi all of LYNNFIELD. Debbie White, Sally Hines, Joseph Murphy, Coach Laurie Condon, Emily Daly, Mary Jarvis, Gus Strangle and Warren Jackson all of NORTH READING.

DREAMBOATS, Heather Sheehy of TEWKSBURY, Karen and Susan Dudley and Karen Murdoch of READING, Nancy Sullivan and Jill O'Neill of WINCHESTER.

SUPERSTARS Fred and Patricia Brown of TEWKSBURY, Tom O'Connor, Jr., READING, Stacie Nordin and Greg Rando of STONEHAM and John Crispo of BURLINGTON.

I asked five year old Michael Coughlin, "Did you see Santa Claus come down the chimney Christmas Eve?" "No I didn't,"

Michael said, "but I heard what he said when he tripped over the living room coffee table in the dark!"

I asked my nephew Dennis Tully, "What did you give your baby brother Danny for Christmas?" Dennis smiled and said, "I gave him my measles!"

Folks the reason for the Pun's, Quips and Jokes whether they are (CORN) or not, are there to help us LAUGH. Medical researchers have discovered that there is no medicine, elixir or pill that is more beneficial for our general good health than a honest to goodness "HEARTY LAUGH."

Atheists don't have any, "Invisible" means of support. One of their epitaphs reads, "All dressed up and, no place to go!"

Folks, the quickest way to meet new people is to pick up the wrong ball on the golf course.

"DEO GRATIAS"
"Thank you, Oh Lord, for this

NEW YEAR.
Untouched, and freshly new. Protect all those we hold so dear Our church and Country too.

Watch o'er the million Stars at night, The skies and ocean blue. The valley's depth and Mountains height must all depend on You.

The fertile fields with Waves of grain The rocks and rills and plains; The farm and garden and country lane, all need Your gentle rains.

On bended Knees we pray Oh Lord, Please calm life's stormy seas. May you guide us each day, Oh Lord, "Til we're in Heaven with thee.

"A Happy, Healthy, Blessed New Year to all."
